

The Center for Global Supply Chain and Process Management

- Providing a cutting-edge experiential education to Moore School of Business students
- Delivering innovative and value-added solutions to member organizations
- Offering Six Sigma Green Belt certifications to qualifying students
- Creating a networking forum for academia and practice
- Encouraging practice-based research and knowledge creation

Center Stakeholders

Member Organizations

Colonial Life • Cummins (Turbo Technologies Division) • Eaton Corporation • Johnson & Johnson (Ortho-Clinical Diagnostics Division) • Kaiser Aluminum • Palmetto Health Richland • Pfizer (Capsugel Division) • Sonoco Products Company • Westinghouse-Toshiba (Nuclear Fuel Division)

Faculty, Department of Management Science

Sanjay Ahire, Professor • Joan Donahue, Associate Professor • Kirk Fiedler, Associate Professor • Timothy Fry, Professor • Michael Galbreth, Assistant Professor • Marco Habermann, Assistant Professor • Jayanth Jayaram, Associate Professor • Manoj Malhotra, Department Chair and Jeff B. Bates Professor (Center Founding Director) • Anand Nair, Assistant Professor • Dennis Oberhelman, Professor • Patrick Philipoom, Professor • Kathy Whitcomb, Associate Professor

Students

Moore School Undergraduate and MBA students majoring in Global Supply Chain and Operations Management

The Center for Global Supply Chain and Process Management at the Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina, is proud to sponsor the International and Global Operations Track of the POMS 2009 Annual Conference.