

POMS 2023 Doctoral Consortium

POMS 33rd Annual Conference
Tuesday, May 23, 2023 | 1:00 pm to 5:30 pm EST

The 2023 POMS Doctoral Consortium looks to expose attendees to the current themes and trends that are shaping higher education and that, indirectly, are shaping the conduct of research and delivery of quality education at all academic levels in universities today. While we will provide insight into the current academic job market and perspectives on developing a job search strategy, attendees will also hear insight into important changes/trends in the profession. The program aims to provide useful insight and guidance from an esteemed group of early-career, mid-career, and senior faculty members. This program represents an invaluable opportunity for attendees to extend their emerging professional network. Applications from doctoral students in business or engineering are now invited.
